NOTHING BEATS[®] YOUR PERFORMANCE

„Nothing beATS your Performance“:

This claim uniquely summarizes the way ATS views performance. Our portfolio reflects the consistent progress of our work. A perfect example of this is our FlowForming wheel, a high-end product made by ATS that meets even the highest demands.

Guided by this vision, we have been producing unique innovations that withstand the greatest forces for over 50 years. We are global leaders in weight-reduction technologies and use modern coating and processing procedures that allow us to offer up to a five-year guarantee on selected wheel models.

This expertise finds its way into all ATS products. We use our know-how to constantly develop new wheel rims for daily use on the road, allowing our customers to benefit from the performance feeling and our precision on their daily drives. The pleasure of driving combined with balanced aerodynamics and a sophisticated, timeless design are paramount.

COMPETITION 2

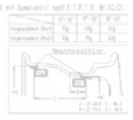

When powerful design meets innovation, great things are bound to happen: the new COMPETITION 2 alloy wheel. In the color racing-black and with polished lips, the new wheel stands for performance at the highest level.

TECHNOLOGIES

An ideal interplay of performance, passion and precision as well as the absolute determination to advance right up to the limits are the necessary ingredients for producing perfect wheels. Thanks to our long-standing expertise and innovative technological procedures, ATS alloy wheels provide the performance that our customers and trade partners expect.

LIGHT WEIGHT PERFORMANCE CASTING

A low weight means a lower consumption and, above all, better performance. Light Weight Performance Casting (LWPC) is a state-of-the-art technology that reduces the wheel's weight with an optimized cooling procedure. In conjunction with undercut technology, where we remove material behind the spokes, PASSION and COMPETITION 2 are approximately 8.5 percent lighter than conventional cast wheels. In addition, less material is needed to produce LWPC alloy wheels. The calculation is simple: lower weight equals less mass in motion. This saves gas and protects the environment.

FLOWFORMING BY ATS

This is a technology and innovative production variant that combines the best of two worlds. Thanks to the casting process used, we not only retain absolute freedom in terms of design, but also optimize the weight of our wheels without compromising in any way on strength and stability.
